@Steve already gave a good answer to your question: `verts = [None] * 1000` Warning: As @Joachim Wuttke pointed out, the list must be initialized with an immutable element. `[[[]]] * 1000` does not work as expected because you will get a list of 1000 identical lists (similar to a list of 1000 points to the same list in C). Immutable objects like int, str or tuple will do fine.
