A mountain is a large landform that rises above the surrounding land in a limited area, usually in the form of a peak. A mountain is generally steeper than a hill. Mountains are formed through tectonic forces or volcanism. These forces can locally raise the surface of the earth. Mountains erode slowly through the action of rivers, weather conditions, and glaciers.

"Love Can Move Mountains" is a song by Canadian singer Celine Dion, recorded for her second English-language studio album, Celine Dion (1992). Written by Diane Warren and produced by Ric Wake, it was released as the fourth single in October 1992. It is an up-tempo pop song drawing influence from gospel and dance music, and its lyrics detail the abilities that love has as an emotion.

Meanwhile I busied myself finishing this spring-y crochet scarf/shawl. It's called the Midsummer Garden Shawlette by Kristin Omdahl. The video instructions and chart information is here, and there is another video therefor lefties to make the same shawl. I think it's perfect for filling in those much too low necklines that dress designers are so fond of these days.

How important are mountains in your world? As part of our planet's ecosystem they influence weather conditions across global and regional climates. In some cultures mountains are a symbol of the planet. And there are many stories where an individual embarks on a pilgrimage up a sacred mountain on a spiritual quest. Great battles are fought on, around and in the shadow of mountains.
