A trust is a three-party fiduciary relationship in which the first party, the trustor or settlor, transfers ("settles") a property (often but not necessarily a sum of money) upon the second party (the trustee) for the benefit of the third party, the beneficiary.. A testamentary trust is created by a will and arises after the death of the settlor. An inter vivos trust is created during the ...

Illusory superiority's relationship with self-esteem is uncertain. The theory that those with high self-esteem maintain this high level by rating themselves highly is not without merit—studies involving non-depressed college students found that they thought they had more control over positive outcomes compared to their peers, even when controlling for performance.

I tell my kids repeatedly- "Life isn't fair." They don't always get what I'm saying. They usually take it as "I'm getting hosed because life isn't fair," but at least half the time I use that phrase, I'm indicating something else entirely- "Life isn't fair to your benefit, the more you can do to make it even more unfair, the better off you'll be, and your mother and I ...
